CEO WELCOME

Dear Member,

Welcome to ESNZ and thank you for coming on board! You are embarking on an exciting new journey which will undoubtedly take you to some fabulous highs. Being part of an organisation where everyone shares and understands those adventures can be rewarding in itself.

Whether your aspirations are to go all the way to championship level, or to simply enjoy the pleasure of competing with friends, you are now part of an extended family which shares a common passion – the love of horses. If you are joining to support family members, or to give back to the equestrian community, we welcome you. You are a critical part of our sport and we thank you for all that you do. Without you and the other volunteers we would have no sport.

Each of our disciplines has exciting opportunities for you to compete and you may find, over time, that your equestrian aspirations change. Being a member of ESNZ allows you to taste and compete in every one of our disciplines as your journey progresses. With five key disciplines there is something for everyone at every stage, from the grace of Dressage, speed of Endurance and heights of Jumping to the challenge of Eventing and the determination of the Para-Equestrian riders. Each discipline offers a range of levels to cater for everyone.

I wish you luck with your equestrian journey and encourage you all to make the most of the opportunities that may come your way. If you have any further queries about joining ESNZ or how to really activate your new membership please ask our Member Services Team who will help you get started.

INTRODUCTION TO EQUESTRIAN SPORT

EQUESTRIAN SPORT NEW ZEALAND (ESNZ) IS THE NATIONAL SPORTS ORGANISATION FOR EQUESTRIAN IN NEW ZEALAND.

We aim to deliver quality equestrian competitions and administration in conjunction with our five discipline bodies.

The disciplines have their own area groups/clubs in each region that run local shows throughout the country. Our five competitive disciplines are Jumping (which includes Show Hunter), Dressage, Eventing, Endurance (including CTR) and Para Equestrian. In total we have around 6000 registered members and 6000 registered equines competing throughout the country.

Riding is a great form of exercise, it helps improve core strength and posture, is great for improving your balance as well as being a good cardio workout to keep fit. Along with the physical benefits there are numerous mental benefits. It trains you to stay relaxed and focused, think on your feet and make quick decisions. Whatever your chosen path the benefits and pleasures of owning and enjoying a competitive life with your horse will quickly become apparent.

We hope this is the beginning of a great partnership between ESNZ and yourself and that we can help you go from strength to strength in your competitive career.

Rule books

All rule books, general regulations and discipline rule can be found on the ESNZ website and can be purchased. If you are going to be riding a lot it's a great idea to have a copy of these in your truck or car so you can refer to them. Contact the main office and get a copy today.

Getting involved locally

ESNZ's constitution outlines how the organisation works. The country is divided into areas and each area has a delegate for their disciplines. If you want to get involved locally then you should contact your area group and go along to a meeting, they all run events in the regions and would love you to help them if you have some time. It's also a great way to learn the different parts of the sport. All contact details for the areas can be found on the website. www.nzequestrian.org.nz Select your discipline and find area contacts.

JUMPING

JUMPING

JUMPING IS A DISCIPLINE THAT ENCOMPASSES BOTH JUMPING AND SHOW HUNTER.

New Zealand Showjumping combinations have enjoyed much success over the years with many representatives attending the pinnacle of sport, the Olympic Games. On the other hand you don't need to be aiming for the Olympics to make your mark in Jumping, there is something for everyone.

Jumping is the largest equestrian discipline in New Zealand and consists of combinations jumping up to 13 fences in a set order. Depending on the type of competition and which rules the competition is run under, the winner is the horse and rider that incurs the least number of penalties, completes the course in the fastest time or gains the highest number of points. Jumping competitions in New Zealand start at around 60cm in height for introductory riders and go right up to 1.60m for the FEI World cup premiere jumping competitions. In Jumping there are classes for either ponies or horses.

Showhunter is a form of jumping competition judged on balance, style and rhythm. Combinations jump up to 10 fences and the discipline is often used for young horses to gain jumping confidence, young riders who need to learn the basics of jumping and experienced riders who enjoy the technical requirements of the sport. In pony Showhunter you can compete in different categories depending on the size of your pony. If you are riding a horse you can compete in all horse classes.

DRESSAGE

DRESSAGE TODAY IS CONTEMPORARY, EXCITING, CHALLENGING AND FUN.

You don't require a specific breed of horse to compete in dressage events. Dressage captures the imagination of riders from eight years old to eighty years old. Anyone can participate in the wide range of 180 competitions throughout the country.

There are many different series and competitions for pony riders, young riders, masters, amateurs and international riders. If you're new to the sport we encourage you to join your local dressage club and get to know other dressage riders in your area. Once you begin, you'll be hooked!

Over the centuries dressage has evolved from the cavalry to being the foundation of all equestrian sports. Dressage training makes a horse a more athletic, attentive, and easier to ride in all competitive disciplines and leisure riding. Dressage is often called "horse ballet". Ballet is beautiful but strenuous, and dancers must execute precise movements with a level of grace that masks the athleticism required to perform them. Dressage is exactly like that.

Competitive dressage involves performing predetermined movements in standard size arena. In all levels of competitions the horse and rider must show a variety of compulsory movements depending on the level, from basic walk, trot and canter to international level Grand Prix. Horses and riders are graded depending on the number of points earned based on the judges score (%). Freestyle dressage involves compulsory movements choreographed to music by individual riders.

Come ride with us and/or join one of our volunteer teams for an enjoyable equestrian experience. Dressage - Empowering Equine Connection

DRESSAGE CAPTURES THE IMAGINATION OF RIDERS FROM EIGHT YEARS OLD TO EIGHTY YEARS OLD.

EVENTING

MARK TODD MOVE ASIDE, I'M GOING EVENTING!

Eventing sees combinations competing in three different disciplines: Dressage, Showjumping and Cross Country. Combinations receive a score from their dressage test and have penalties added for any faults during the cross country and showjumping phases; the combination with the lowest penalty score at the completion of the event wins.

New Zealand has a rich history in Eventing with numerous medals at the Olympic Games and World Championships.

As the 'triathlon' of Equestrian, both horses and riders are required to be skilled at three different disciplines of riding to excel. New Zealand is particularly strong in the sport of Eventing, we have a strong group of New Zealand based competitors, and also have a lot of depth in our high performance programmes both within New Zealand and based overseas.

Eventing in New Zealand has two seasons; the Spring season which runs from September to December, and the Autumn season which runs from early February to May. Eventing New Zealand also has a number of series which sees combinations at various levels gaining points from placings at each event, to find overall series winners and place getters which are awarded at the end of season awards evening.

The season wraps up with the Taupo Three Day Eventing Championships in May, which is considered one of the most prestigious events of the season.

New Zealand runs both national level events (CNC) and FEI level events (CIC or CCI) throughout the season. In New Zealand we hold events up to 3* level, which is the second highest level in the world - to date there are only six 4* level events around the world.

ENDURANCE

/CTR

Endurance rides vary from about 10km to 160km and are usually completed in a single day. At the competitive level the combination with the fastest time is the winner, provided the horse has passed all the vet checks and at the end is deemed to be “fit to continue”.

At intro and novice level it is not a race. The combinations are given a minimum and a maximum time and must complete the distance within that time frame. Plenty of time is allowed at these levels to ensure all horses and riders can complete the distance at a pace that suits both horse and rider. Everyone starts together in an endurance ride although riders can wait and start up to 15 minutes later if they don't want to start with the group.

CTR (Competitive Trail Riding) is a scored event based on riding to an optimum time and your horse having the lowest possible heart rates. Riders are given time to complete a marked course, and penalty points are given for arriving at the finish early or later than the optimum time.

The horse's heart rate is taken upon crossing the finish line and 30 minutes later. These heart rates are added to any time faults from finishing early or late to produce a final score. Lowest score wins. Riders start in small groups, usually 2-3, rather than everyone starting together. The majority of the CTR rides vary in distance from about 5km to 40km so there is always something to suit everyone.

PARA DRESSAGE

Para-equestrian in NZ is the sport of dressage and consists of five sport classes called 'grades' for athletes with physical and visual impairments. Para-Equestrian Dressage is the only Equestrian discipline that is included in the Paralympic Games, where it has been a regular fixture since 1996.

The competitor's mobility, strength and coordination are assessed in order to establish their classification profile. People with similar functional ability profiles are grouped into competition grades. The grades range from Grade Ia for the most severely impaired, to Grade IV for the least impaired. Riders are permitted to use devices called "compensating aids" such as two whips, connecting rein bars, stirrup bands and other aids. The competition within each grade can therefore be judged on the skill of the individual competitor on their horse, regardless of the competitor's impairment.

GRADE IA

Athlete has severe impairments affecting all limbs and the trunk. The athlete usually requires the use of a wheelchair in daily life.

GRADE IB

Athletes here have either a severe impairment of the trunk and minimal impairment of the upper limbs or moderate impairment of the trunk, upper and lower limbs. Most athletes in this class use a wheelchair in daily life.

GRADE II

Athletes in this class have severe impairments in both lower limbs with minimal or no impairment of the trunk or moderate impairment of the upper and lower limbs and trunk. Some athletes in this class may use a wheelchair in daily life.

GRADE III

Athletes in grade III have a severe impairment or deficiency of both upper limbs or a moderate impairment of all four limbs or short stature. Athletes in grade III are able to walk and generally do not require a wheelchair in daily life. Grade III also includes athletes having a visual impairment equivalent to B1 (very low visual acuity and/ or no light perception).

GRADE IV

Athletes here have a mild impairment of range of movement or muscle strength or a deficiency of one limb or mild deficiency of two limbs. Grade IV also includes athletes with visual impairment equivalent to B2 (higher visual acuity than visually impaired athletes) competing in the grade III sport class and/ or a visual field of less than five degrees radius.

WHAT OTHER INVOLVEMENT CAN I HAVE IN EQUESTRIAN SPORTS?

There are many different ways you can get involved with equestrian sports as a member of ESNZ. In addition to competing there are various official roles that are integral to being able to run a competition. For more information contact your discipline staff or email sport@nzequestrian.org.nz

Judge

Judging is a rewarding way to get involved with equestrian sports. Judges are vital to the sport and help ensure competitions are well run as well as providing a way we can grow participation in New Zealand. Judges are registered through ESNZ and can progress from grassroots up to FEI level which allows you to officiate up to or at international competition.

Steward

A steward is tasked with the responsibility of interpreting and enforcing the rules of ESNZ at horse shows run under ESNZ rules. Equine welfare is a big part of this role. There are also opportunities to steward up to FEI level with the right training and qualifications achieved while stewarding in New Zealand.

Clean Sport Tester

If you are interested in keeping equestrian clean in New Zealand this role could be what you're looking for. These individuals carry out clean sport testing on equines throughout New Zealand alongside vets. You receive comprehensive training and support from ESNZ Clean Sport.

Coach

Do you enjoy seeing others succeed? If so becoming an ESNZ qualified coach is for you. We offer a comprehensive training programme ranging from introductory level coaching through to high performance level.

Supporter

Supporters are the backbone of equestrian in New Zealand. Owners, breeders, parents, viewers and others can all become involved as an ESNZ community member. Doing this you will receive updates from ESNZ about what is happening nationwide and be kept up to date with all things equestrian.

DO I NEED TO BE A MEMBER?

ESNZ offers two membership options depending on your level of involvement in the sport. Subject to what level of the sport you want to compete in you will either be able to compete as a community member or you will need to be a fully paid up member.

You may also need a discipline start - which is an extra fee to the discipline boards if you want to ride in national series competitions and championships, if you ride at more than five or six events a year or if you want to jump over a certain height.

Community Membership

Becoming a community member (free) entitles inclusion in various e-Newsletters (Both ESNZ and discipline specific as requested), ability to compete in introductory level competition and non ESNZ disciplines at Horse of the Year - such as Showing - and provides a great base for involvement in the equestrian community.

This membership also has access to some of the discounts provided from ESNZ partners/supporters.

Full Membership

This is the only 'financial' membership ESNZ now offers (apart from existing life memberships). All riders, listed officials and at least one owner of every equine on our ESNZ database must be a full member. When renewing a membership it backdates to the expiry date up to three months (see back dating policy). This membership entitles voting at national and area levels (for members over 18 years of age), access to equine/ rider profiles and other ESNZ membership discounts.

WHAT DO I DO TO BECOME A MEMBER?

There are three different parts to you and your horse being a member and you may need some, all or none of them. These include rider membership, equine membership and discipline starts.

The following explains each in detail. But if you are at all confused or unsure, please call our membership services team.

DOES MY HORSE NEED TO BE REGISTERED?

THE EQUINE REGISTRATION IS MADE UP OF TWO PARTS.

One part is a compulsory ESNZ registration fee (explained below) with the money going to ESNZ. The second part of the registration is a discipline start (explained below) with this money going directly to the disciplines to help run and grow their respective sport including training officials, ensuring rules are relevant and managing the sport's interests.

Full ESNZ Equine Registration

The ESNZ Full equine registration is very simply one fee which lasts for a year. When renewing an equine registration it backdates to the expiry date up to three months (see back dating policy). This equine registration entitles an equine record of results, equine profile and allows access to compete at all national levels (dependant on discipline starts). Equines need to have a full ESNZ registration to compete at Horse of the Year, National and Island Championships & enter series classes.

Casual ESNZ Equine Registration

This is a pay as you go option rather than paying a yearly equine registration fee, which is paid at shows. All equines using this fee will not receive an equine record of results and this is only available at certain shows/levels (see table on page 15).

Discipline Annual Start

An annual start (must have an ESNZ full registration) allows you to compete in as many classes/shows as you wish in the respective discipline you have registered for (e.g. CNC95 Eventing annual start). Some disciplines have multiple annual start choices for different levels of competition. To decide which start is right for you please see the fee table on page 16.

Discipline Flexi Start

This is a pay as you go option, which is paid at shows and passed onto the disciplines. To be used in conjunction with a full equine registration (or casual for Eventing). This option is available in the disciplines of Dressage (per test) and Eventing (per event). See the table on page 16 for the fees.

Jumping Casual Levy

A pay per show fee specifically for unregistered Showjumping/ Showhunter horses. This fee covers the equine registration and discipline start. Since the horse is unregistered they are ineligible to compete in certain classes and will not have a competition record - see table on page 16.

UNREGISTERED $0

Who?

- Equines (horses and ponies) participating in ESNZ 'introductory' level activity/competitions (see page 12)

Why & what?

- Right to participate in ESNZ 'introductory' level activity/competitions (as defined in the competition listings below)
- No equine record (no recorded name, breeding, results, MER/qualifications, grading points, kms etc)
- No equine identification required.

CASUAL REGISTRATION $5 PER EVENT

Who?

- Equines (horses and ponies) participating in ESNZ Eventing competitions CNC80 to CNC105 level, Novice Endurance and Junior/Intermediate CTR

Why?

- To fulfil the registration requirements when only competing at a small number of competitions per year

ESNZ casual equine registration cannot be used in place of annual equine registration at the following shows/events: Island Champs, National Champs, HoY, FEI classes in NZ

FULL REGISTRATION $75

Who?

- Equines (horses and ponies) participating in multiple ESNZ competitions per year
- Equines competing in Jumping/Showhunter Series classes
- Equines competing in graded Dressage/Para
- Equines competing in Open CTR or Endurance 40km+
- Equines competing in Eventing CNC1* and above
- Equines competing in Island & National Champs, National Title classes
- Equines competing in FEI classes in NZ
- Equines competing in ESNZ discipline classes at HoY

Why & what?

- Right to compete in all ESNZ Competitions
- Right to compete at Island and National Champs, National title classes and ESNZ discipline classes at HoY
- Right to an equine record (recorded name, breeding, results, MER/qualifications, grading points, kms etc)
- Right to show horse profiles through the ESNZ website
- Right to FEI equine registration (with additional FEI fee)

COMPETING

Show Entries

Great you've signed up and are now ready to enter a show. In New Zealand there are two main ways to do this, Online and Paper/Manual. All shows will accept paper/manual but taking the time to register with the online entry systems does save time and hassle.

Paper/Manual

Once you and your equine are ESNZ registered you will be able to download a prefilled entry form from the ESNZ website (www.nzequestrian.org.nz – Please contact ESNZ for a log in).

This entry form will provide the show secretary with the information needed on yourself and your equine, including your name, address, contact details and equine details. If entering using these forms you will need to fill in the class details you wish to enter (found on the show schedule) and all costs. You can then post it off with payment to the show secretary, who will then confirm your entry in due course (Some shows may also allow you to fax or email through your entries, you would need to check the show schedule or with the secretary to confirm this on a case by case basis).

Online

Online entries are gaining in popularity in New Zealand, the systems are easy to use and store all your and your equines' details online for the next time you want to enter. Once you enter online you will also need to provide payment (option details will be on each website). The entries will automatically be sent through to the show secretary where they will be verified. If you have any questions about using either of the above websites there are contact details on the home pages. Show schedules can also be found on both of the below websites.
